

DECENCY STANDARDS ON TELEVISION AND RADIO

I urge you to uphold high decency standards in entertainment in order to protect America's children and families. You should NOT relax the indecency standard to include only the most egregious offenses.

Any amount of cursing is too much. Are television and radio writers so unintelligent that they don't know how to communicate without cursing? How can we expect our children to be respectful and decent when they are continuously assaulted with profanity and nudity on television broadcasts which claim to reflect normal behavior in typical American life? As we know, children mimic what they see and hear.

This not only effects children. As an adult, I don't want to be subjected to cursing and nudity via broadcast or by any person in my everyday life. My family and I (and all people) deserve to be treated with dignity and respect.

If you relax decency standards, our society will sink to a new low. Therefore, I urge you again, please uphold decency standards in entertainment.
